

Hochschule Bremen
City University of Applied Sciences

The International Women's Degree Program in Computer Science –
Concept and evaluation in a long-term retention study

Gerlinde Schreiber
University of Applied Sciences Bremen
gerlinde.schreiber@hs-bremen.de

Who we are and what we do:

- Single sex study program in IT (bachelor's program) since the year 2000
- at a University of Applied Sciences

- Focus on application-orientation
- Small groups, interactive lecturing, individual support, questions welcome!
- project-orientation, dual program option, internationality

But: Gender-segregated education often triggers controversy discussions!

Therefore:

Retention study on the professional career of the graduates from 2005 to 2015
and on employers' feedback

- Success at work, satisfaction at work
- Good money
- Work in accordance with qualification
- Satisfaction with important aspects of worklife.

The program “as a whole” attracts young women to IT.

The program works in a sustainable way: our graduates stay successfully in the field .

Thanks a lot
for the great recognition
by the Minerva Award!